GRAND LIST Shows Big Increase Over That Previous Year.

After having devoted between thirty-five and forty days to the work, the assessors of the town of Windham—Amos M. Hatheway, George H. Hatch and Charles W. Tryon—completed the work of compiling the grand list for the year 1909 and the figures show an increase of $276,085 over that of last year. 1908. The total for 1908 was $4,988,827. apportioned as follows: Residents, west division, $4,050,684; non-residents, west division, $431,129; residents, east division, $41787. The total for 1909 is $5,255,918, apportioned as follows: Residents, west division, $4,199,088; non-residents, west division, $421,352; residents, east division, $446,275; non-residents, east division, $445,275; non-residents, east division, $189,198.

The American Thread company, which is the largest taxpayer of the town and city, is now in the list for $1,360,000, which is only a small in-crease of $60,000. Other increases that help to bring up the total to something more nearly like its approximate figure are: Windham Manufacturing com-pany, $20,000; Smith & Winchester Manufacturing company, South Wind-ham, $5,000; Uncas Power company $86,000. All of the above named concerns have completed large additions to their respective plants during the past year, and the Uncas Power company having erected a large dam with fine power house on what was considered land of very little value for other than the water priviles. other than the water privilege during the past few years. Another item to assist in the grand total was the taxa-tion of the cottages at the Willimantic
